M&A FACTS – H1 2024 BASE- & PETROCHEMICALS SECTOR

August 2024

BASE- & PETROCHEMICALS – M&A-HIGHLIGHTS AND MARKET INSIGHTS

Overall, the Base- & Petrochemicals M&A market shows some resilience, despite lower utilization and increased costs.

H1 2024 Deal activity

EBITDA trading multiples remained stable compared to 2023.

The median of the transaction multiples was 8.5x and exceeded the median of the trading multiples significantly in H1 2024 due to some outliers in the Asian market in Q4.

Insights

Overall, the Base- & Petrochemicals M&A market shows resilience, despite increased material and energy costs and challenges to achieve the global sustainability goals.

Strategies

Strategies remain unchanged driven by capacity utilizations challenges and need to reduce carbon footprint and increase recycling content. Closure of assets has slowed down compared to prior years.

Trends

Consolidation and transformations in the Petrochemical Industry especially in Europe to continue. While Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanisms are at the horizon a shift to more regional supply becomes the option to be considered for some product clusters. Monetization of infrastructure ownership remains on the agenda.

Key growth areas

Recycling and close loop technologies will continue to be of interest as well as substitutes for critical products like PFAS. Apart from its new capacities in Asia will have an impact on prices in for some large volume products (e.g. PET, PTA, MEG). Light Naphta demand is expected to grow throughout the year.

M&A SUMMARY

Resilient M&A market for Base- & Petrochemicals over the recent years.

Base- & Petrochemicals M&A Transaction Multiples 2022-2024

Implied Transaction Enterprise Value / EBITDA of announced transactions with disclosed multiple.

"The Base- and Petrochemical market seems to have reached the bottom of the cycle with restocking effects provided tailwinds in the first quarter. Global economy remains volatile and will not provide too much flexibility in price adjustments."
